STEPHEN BEAM
FOUNDER AND MASTER DISTILLER

RICH LINEAGE IN THE BOURBON INDUSTRY

Stephen Beam's bourbon roots run deep. Stephen's great-great grandfather was Joseph Washington Dant, an early bourbon pioneer. On the other side of his family tree, he is great-grandson to Minor Case Beam. The eldest son of Joseph M. Beam, of the legendary Beam lineage.

WHY LIMESTONE BRANCH DISTILLERY?

Since college, it was Stephen's dream to return the Yellowstone brand back to the family. In 2010 together with his brother Paul, they started Limestone Branch Distillery. Shortly thereafter, they brought the Yellowstone back to the family and restored it to its original glory, more than a century after his great-grandfather Minor Case beam sold his distillery to J.W. Dant. Limestone Branch Distillery today blends the beam history and heritage with the brothers' passion for making great spirits in small batches.

KENTUCKY CRAFT BOURBON TRAIL

As a founder of the Kentucky Craft Bourbon Trail, Limestone Branch Distillery is proud to be craft distillery-filling one barrel per day and using traditional distillery methods. Visitors coming for tours are treated like family and are able to learn about the family heritage, taste some of Kentucky's finest bourbon and enjoy their time relaxing in our beautiful garden or sipping a cocktail in our bar.
